NSCF's Overall objective - Building Strong Relationships across Canada & The Commonwealth.

In order to realize one's full potential, relationships are key to our need for a sense of connection and belonging, along with our need to feel valued and respected by others.

Getting to know each other and learn about our shared interests and values is exciting and helps us unite and grow together.

The foundation of any relationship is based on trust, open communication, and mutual respect. These three factors are essential for all relationships to thrive, grow, and resolve conflicts that may arise. This is true among friends, colleagues, and The Commonwealth as we build consensus on a better way forward.

49th NSCF "Reflecting on our Heritage" PRE-EVENT ZOOM WORKSHOPS (Who are We) August 10 & 11, 2024

Saturday, Aug 10th – Who are we?

Reminders For today:

- This pre-event workshop will be virtual.
- As a pluralistic society, Canada respects multiple viewpoints in terms of cultural, ethnic, linguistic, religious and political diversity as a source of creativity, innovation and resilience.
- The purpose today is to get to know each other and explore our diversity and what we have in common.
- We will explore: Who we are, our diverse and inclusive society, how to build consensus on a better way forward, and our National Identity.
- Using a combination of presentations, focused reflection, and interactive polls/surveys.
